Chairperson's Message

It is my pleasure to transmit the Annual Report of the Committee for Purchase From People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled for Fiscal Year 2003.

The Javits-Wagner-O'Day (JWOD) Program provides Americans who are blind or have other severe disabilities with meaningful employment opportunities while providing the Federal Government with quality products and services, delivered on time and at a fair market price. Today, the JWOD Program employs nearly 42,000 individuals who are blind or have other severe disabilities, at over 600 nonprofit agencies performing on Federal contracts nationwide, including Puerto Rico and Guam.

Fiscal Year 2003 heralded the start of an exciting time for the JWOD Program as the Committee embarked on the process of establishing a new strategic plan for 2005-2007, which will shape the future direction and stewardship of the JWOD Program. During Fiscal Year 2004, the Committee will focus its attention on completing the strategic planning process and laying the necessary groundwork to successfully meet Fiscal Year 2005 targets. The Committee looks forward to sharing its achievements with you at that time.

This Fiscal Year was also a time of great pride for JWOD employees nationwide who provide products and services to military customers. People with severe disabilities were able to support the thousands of men and women serving our country during Operations Enduring Freedom and Iraqi Freedom, and the greater War on Terrorism, through the provision of products such as chemical protective suits, first aid kits and other military unique items; and services, such as uniform issuance and food services. Many JWOD product and services contracts were operating at surge capacities as a result of the expanded mobilization efforts. In addition, the JWOD Program was involved in humanitarian aid efforts, to include the provision of certain subsistence items distributed by our Government to the people of Afghanistan and Iraq. The JWOD Program is honored to provide its customers with these mission-critical supports.

Located at the end of this report is a listing by state of the community-based nonprofit agencies that currently employ people with severe disabilities under the JWOD Program. Members of Congress and their staff are invited to contact Robert Hartt of the Committee staff at (703) 603-7740 to make arrangements to visit with them and see their capabilities firsthand while in your local offices.

Sincerely,

Steven B. Schwalb
Chairperson

Javits-Wagner-O'Day History

Enacted in 1938, the original Wagner-O'Day Act was designed to promote a desirable socioeconomic goal by using the tremendous purchasing power of the Federal Government as a catalyst in employing people who are blind. The law established the Committee on Purchases of Blind-Made Products and provided long-term work opportunities by mandating that all Federal agencies purchase specified products made in nonprofit agencies employing such individuals. In 1971, under the leadership of Senator Jacob Javits, Congress amended this Act (41 U.S.C. 46-48c) to include people with other severe disabilities and allow the Program to also provide services to the Federal Government.

Under the new Act, the Federal agency charged with administering the Javits-Wagner-O'Day (JWOD) Program was again structured as a Committee. That agency—currently known as the Committee for Purchase From People Who Are Blind or Severely Disabled (Committee), was charged with deciding which products and services should be purchased by the Federal Government under the JWOD Program; determining the fair market price for those products and services; revising the prices in accordance with changing market conditions; and establishing rules needed to administer the Program. The Committee designated two central nonprofit agencies—National Industries for the Blind (NIB) and NISH—to facilitate the distribution of orders and provide other services among nonprofit agencies participating in the JWOD Program. NIB works with nonprofit agencies that primarily serve people who are blind, while NISH works with nonprofit agencies that serve individuals with a range of severe disabilities.

In addition to the JWOD Act, the Program's implementing guidance is found in the Code of Federal Regulations (41 CFR Chapter 51) and the Federal Acquisition Regulations (FAR Subpart 8.7). The Committee maintains an official Procurement List of products and services that are mandated for purchase from nonprofit agencies serving people who are blind or have other severe disabilities. A copy of the Procurement List can be downloaded from the JWOD Program's information website at www.jwod.gov.

After more than 60 years, this extraordinary socioeconomic program provides Federal customers with a wide array of quality products and services, while providing thousands of people with severe disabilities real jobs and increased independence.

Committee Responsibilities

In accordance with the legislative history of the Javits-Wagner-O'Day (JWOD) Act (41 U.S.C. 46-48c), the Committee's mission is to use the purchasing power of the Federal Government to provide employment opportunities for people who are blind or have other severe disabilities. The Committee's primary means of achieving this objective is to direct the Government to procure products and services provided by nonprofit agencies employing such persons nationwide. Among the major functions carried out by the Committee are:

- Determining which products and services are suitable for provision by nonprofit agencies employing people who are blind or have other severe disabilities, and communicating such capabilities to Federal personnel.
- Determining fair market prices for these products and services and revising prices in accordance with changing market conditions.
- Assisting Federal agencies to expand procurement from nonprofit agencies participating in the JWOD Program, and monitoring the compliance of both with Committee regulations and procedures.

It is also the responsibility of the Committee to designate, establish fee ceilings for, and provide guidance to Central Nonprofit Agencies (CNAs) that help State-operated and private nonprofit agencies participate in the JWOD Program. The Committee has designated National Industries for the Blind (NIB) and NISH to provide such assistance.

NIB/NISH Responsibilities

NIB and NISH are independent nonprofit organizations, not Federal entities. Each of the 618 State and private nonprofit agencies participating in the JWOD Program at the end of FY 2003 is associated with either NIB or NISH. Major functions carried out by NIB and NISH include:

- Allocating Government orders for JWOD items among nonprofit agencies.
- Assisting nonprofit agencies to develop new JWOD items for the Committee's consideration; calculate proposed JWOD prices; address production/service provision concerns; and comply with Committee regulations.
- Evaluating Federal customer needs and nonprofit agencies' capabilities to provide specific products and services.
- Obtaining item procurement histories from Federal contracting activities and other information required by the Committee.

NIB and NISH also provide their associated agencies with many other services, including: legislative and regulatory assistance; communications and public relations materials; information technology support; engineering, financial and technical assistance and professional training programs.
